Putting the pieces together

Putting the pieces . . .

The experiences lived at Abraham Lincoln High are each like a separate puzzle piece, small in comparison, yet part of a much bigger picture . . . four years of high school. Some are just starting their puzzle and others are filling in their last pieces. The yearbook staff has put together a puzzle containing the bits and pieces of the year 1987-88.

Coronation shines; king, queen elected

September 22-26 was a week to remember as Homecoming festivities sparked school spirit.

Spirit Week got off to a flying start when the student body selected the Homecoming Court. Cheerleaders sold mums and carnations, while the wrestlers sold the traditional spirit links.

Spirit Week got into full swing on Wednesday as students and faculty displayed their school spirit on Hawaiian Day by wearing loud, floral patterned clothes. Thursday was designated as Dress up Day in honor of the Coronation Assembly. The assembly was emceed by David Pulliam and Swing Choir provided the entertainment by performing Celebrate, Together We Stand, and Get Happy.

Silence fell over the crowd as last year's queen, Danee Ferguson, passed her crown to Gina Marcum. Last year's king, Travis Burris, was unable to attend to crown and congratulate the new king, Troy Thacker. In closing, the crowd rose to its feet to honor the newly crowned king and queen.

Rails explode in excitement

Friday brought out the true spirit of the student body. Students dressed in maroon and gold for the traditional Color Day. Seniors portrayed their spirit and enthusiasm by designing two different Homecoming floats.

The football game got off to a colorful start when Rails Club released many maroon and gold balloons as the team ran onto the field. Halftime entertainment was provided by the Marching Band while the Homecoming Court was announced. Rails Club decorated Hutchens Field with many colorful streamers.

Students continued their school spirit as many attended the dance on Saturday night. Music was provided by KGGO's Phil Wilson. Decorations were provided by Dorian Art.

Cheerleaders liven school

The cheerleaders dedicated many hours of their time to help fire-up school spirit. They began their season early in the summer. They attended camp in Ames with other cheerleaders from all over the state. The cheerleaders make many contributions throughout the year: selling mums and carnations for Homecoming, making signs for athletic activities, and planning pep assemblies.

The group of twenty is divided into three squads. The girls basketball squad, headed by captain Marilee Sparks, cheers for football, girls swimming, wrestling, and girls basketball. Ellen Meline is captain of the boys basketball squad. They cheer for football, volleyball, boys swimming, and boys basketball. The sophomores, led by Lisa Swift, cheered for all freshmen and sophomore football and basketball events.

Co-captains Marilee Sparks and Ellen Meline said, "The friends and memories we made through cheerleading will never be forgotten."

Railettes attend Austrailian Expo

In their second year, the 35 young Railettes began a successful year with a new sponsor, Patty Sonntag, and a new captain, Denise Jones. "Railettes takes a lot of hard work and dedication, but it's more than that, we're a family!" said Denise Jones.

Their first performance was at the Burger Bowl halftime with Shake Down, which they also performed at the first pep assembly. Their second dance was performed to the song Oh Yeah at the Homecoming pep assembly.

Railettes also march with the band during halftime at football games. They competed with the band at two state marching contests finishing third out of 35 bands at Omaha and receiving a "1" rating at East High School. Parade season began in the spring with the Drake Relays parade. The Railettes also marched in the Pella Tulip parade and the Viesha parade in Ames. The squad will accompany the Marching Band to Brisbane, Australia, in August, where they will march in two parades at the 1988 World Expo.

Marchers go to Australia

The Marching Band has been given "the chance of a life-time." In June, they represented the Mid-West in the World Exposition in Brisbane, Australia. "The trip was the largest ever attempted by an Iowa school. This was a very successful trip which was made possible by the administration, faculty, parents, students and good old work," commented Dave Killinger, band director.

During the school year they held several fund raisers for the trip. They sold M&M's, helped BLH sales, and held a paper drive.

In competition, they received a "1" rating for the tenth consecutive year. They also went to Omaha, Nebraska, to march in the Beatrice Music Bowl where they placed in the top three.

In addition, the band provided fans with the halftime entertainment at three home games.

In the spring they performed at the Drake Relays Parade, at the Tulip Festival in Pella, and at Viesha at Iowa State.

Student body shows spirit

The pep assemblies were an exciting part of the year. They were times full of spirit, pride, and recognition.

The Lincoln teams were recognized by the student body and staff for their abilities. Each team has something to be proud of and well deserved the attention.

The main attraction of the year was the BTIC skit. Risky Railmen, performing to You Shook Me All Night Long at the Homecoming assembly.

The Cheerleaders and Drill Team had no trouble arousing the crowd with their version of Let's Go Crazy.

Each pep assembly ended with the students joining in for the school song.

Dorian Art students make school shine

Dorian Art Club, continuing a 34 year tradition, once again added color to the school by decorating the gym for Homecoming and by hanging Christmas scenes in the front hall.

The Christmas portraits which garnished the front hall featured well known Muppet characters in traditional Christmas scenes.

The 35 sophomores, juniors and seniors met each morning for homeroom, led by sponsor Dale McLean and officers: Kevin Molloy; president, Kim Clements; treasurer, Julie Cherry; secretary, and Mellisa Hawk; historian.

President Kevin Molloy commented, "Although this year's group was rather large, I feel that much was accomplished and there was a lot of motivation within the club."

Annually Dorian Art donates a piece of artwork to the school, these are displayed in various school offices.

the RAILSPLITTER

In its continuance of excellence, the RAILSPLITTER, under the guidance of Co-editors Jason Herman and Mindy Manley, completed the successful issues. The newspaper staff, consisting of 15 members worked daily to contribute interesting and intriguing stories to inform and entertain the student body.

Jason Herman commented, "Working as a co-editor was something that I will never forget. I expect it will be very helpful this fall when I take journalism classes in college. This staff needs to be given all of the credit. They were a great team to work with."

Mindy Manley said, "I was very honored to work as a co-editor of the RAILSPLITTER and I am also very proud of the paper and the staff. We have worked hard and maintained our standard for journalistic excellence."

Yearbook staff puts the pieces together

After the theme Putting the Pieces together was chosen for the 1988 yearbook, the staff members worked hard to meet their many deadlines. Slowly, the yearbook became more than just an idea.

Supervised by Advisor Diane Weir, Editors-in-chief Tad Johnson and Shannon McAninch began to take charge, and along with the other 28 staff members, strived to produce a book full of memories that everyone would be pleased with.

Rails Club makes dance one to always remember

Kevin Malloy broke Rails Club history this year when he became the first male officer the club has ever had. Kevin is the club's vice-president. Other officers are Heather Roland, president; Shannon Wright, secretary; Melissa Hawk, treasurer; Christina Carliango, historian; and Sally Fisher, sponsor.

The Rails Club does many things for the school and community. Among these are decorating the football field for Homecoming and conducting the annual Buzz Book cover contest. At Halloween and Easter they dress up to visit children's hospitals and nursing homes. At Christmas, members tested their vocal abilities by caroling at nursing homes.

The annual girl-ask-boy Sweetheart dance, sponsored by the Rails Club, was held Saturday, February 13. Students danced to the tunes of Salmon Dave, formerly of Colt. 45, and Teaser.

Students choose study hall options

Student helpers receive 1/4 credit. "Our counseling office couldn't function without student helpers. They assist both faculty and students," said Joyce Gast.

This year the library has employed an electronic circulation system. The new system has improved the efficiency of the library's box checking system. With this new system, students must have an ID to check out books.

Student center is offered to juniors and seniors in place of study hall. Students can play foosball, video games, listen to music, or eat a wide variety of snacks. Lincoln is the only school with a student center.

Council helps student body

Student Council is concerned with organizing school activities and helping the community. The annual canned food drive proved very successful. A doughnut party for the homeroom with the most cans brought much motivation for the student body, not to mention a few more cans. About 110 people gave blood at the annual blood drive. Students 17 or over were able to participate. Student Council also sponsored the making and selling of spirit ribbons during football season.

SIL, TLC programs strive to aid youths

The Teen Leadership Connection (TLC) is a support group sponsored by the National Council on Alcoholism to help people realize they can be proud of themselves without drugs or alcohol.

The Student in Leadership Program (SIL) develops leadership qualities to encourage involvement in the school and the community. It has three major components: self awareness, leadership development, and student involvement.

The groups met monthly with students from all over Des Moines. The SIL program is sponsored by Judy Griffin and Drew Cannon.

Lincoln players present 'Arsenic'

Arsenic and Old Lace, written by Joseph Kesserling, was first produced in 1942 and in 1944 was made into a movie starring Cary Grant. The play was about two very sweet old ladies who have developed the knack of putting lonely old men out of their misery with a special potion of arsenic, cyanide, and elderberry wine.

The fall play was directed by Kate Hoerl. Rob Andrews commented, "The cast and the crew were super and Mrs. Hoerl is the best dramatic teacher that Lincoln has had for a while."

Debaters show much potential

Coached by Linda Schlak and assisted by Mike Miller, the debaters had many opportunities to gain invaluable experience. The forensics chapter, which has almost doubled in size in the last several years, participated in various tournaments, qualifying members for trophies and state-wide competition. In addition, the chapter hosted the Hoover-Lincoln Presidential Invitational Fall Classic at Hoover, with Presidential candidate Kate Heslop attending. This is the first Lincoln-sponsored tournament in 8 years.

The chapter received the Leading Chapter award, the highest honor N.F.L. can bestow. A school must wait five years before again becoming eligible for the award.

The teams participated in two and four-man policy debate, Class C debate, Lincoln-Douglas debate, Student Congress, and various individual events (including humorous interpretation, dramatic interpretation, original oratory, and extemporaneous speaking).

Judicial debate (Mock Trial), which consists of a court case tried realistically by several lawyers and witnesses who win their positions in open try-outs, again drew many participants in the spring.

Mock Trial team #1 was led by Captain Todd Herriott and managed by Adam Jones, Lori Chaney, and Nicole Kimberly. Members included Ron Bergmann, Chang Chae, Cheryl Cropp, Christina Jarnagin, Erika Moore, Paula Ruston, Nikki Whitaker, and Satire Williams.

Team #2 was led by Captain Kristie Carnine and managed by Elda Lehman and Tracie Alt. Its members included Mekhine Baccam, John Carr, Heather Johnson, Laura Kain, Angie Penland, Jodi Puls, Deana Scheffler, and Frank Sposeto III.

Memorable tournaments included the Atlantic Bull Creek Classic, the Creighton Prep classic, and the N.F.L. West District Contest.

Group to 'Swing' at Disney World

Swing Choir dazzled audiences around the city with their exciting performances. Together We Stand was the group's fall show which was held on November 6,7. Members put on shows for many area clubs and businesses. Principal Financial Center rewarded the group with a free luncheon.

In February, the choir worked diligently for the McDonalds Urbandale Competition and Cedar Rapids Jefferson Invitational. The group ended their year with a trip to sunny Florida. While there, the group performed at Disney World and Epcot Center.

Swing II, Chamber gain much respect

Competitions and performances provided excitement for Chamber Chorale. Choir members competed for 30 spots in the All-State Music Festival against 300 other students from their district. Seniors Laura Hanson and Matt Speck were chosen to perform in the All-State Choir.

Some highlights of the year were the Ogden Competition, performing at the Festival of Trees, and at a directors convention at Iowa State.

"I was really surprised by the way the group pulled together. I was proud to be a part of this group for a second year." commented Joe Carter. "We had a very good year. I learned a lot and had fun too!" said Sherry Wasko.

Prep Swing gave their finest, putting energy and excitement into each performance. Homecoming was the group's first formal show. They also performed at Capital Square and competed in the Cedar Rapids Jefferson Invitational. Lift You Up and We're Gonna Make Some Excitement were two of the songs the group performed in their spring show.

Choirs work hard to perfect skills

Hard work and determination helped lead the way to a successful year for Concert, Treble, and Varsity Choirs.

Concert Choir chose to travel to St. Louis for their annual trip. They toured the city, traveled up the arch, and saw many other sights. They sold posters and jewelry to raise money for the trip.

Concert Choir combined with Chamber Chorale to perform Heilig, a German Christmas piece, in the Winter concert. Other performances included a fall and spring show.

"Varsity and Treble choirs worked hard to learn the skills of singing", said Director Janice Cord.

While directing Concert Choir, Carroll Bennink pushes for the high note.

Instrumental groups show musical ability

Directed by David Killinger, Wind Ensemble competed in the State Competition held at Valley High School. At the end of the year, the group appeared at Vets Auditorium and performed at Commencement.

Concert Band also performed at Commencement and State Competition. The group is directed by Andy Hanson.

Orchestra, under the direction of Donald Webster, participated with the vocal groups in their annual Winter concert. The group has gained new talent and had a very successful year. Members also participated in the All-State Music Festival and Aaron Wolle was chosen to play in the All-State Orchestra.

Foreign trips excite students

Six foreign exchange students attended Lincoln this year: Severin Danials, Germany; Hiroshi Tamura, Japan; Akos Hegyi, Germany; Ester Sanchez, Brazil; Ana DeBarros, Brazil; and Claus Dalum, Denmark.

In addition, students traveled across the nation and world, broadening their horizons. The U.N. and Close-Up trip participants toured Washington, D.C., and were chosen from many applicants. The Europe and Mexico trips were arranged through the foreign language departments.

Peers are chosen to solve problems

Peer Helpers is a group of 24 juniors who are chosen by teacher recommendation to work with elementary, junior high, and high school special education students. The group works on enhancing their listening and understanding skills. They also help eighth graders with their transition into high school.

The members work with each other to develop a positive self-image and to interpret others' feelings.

"I think Peer Helpers is a great experience and it has helped me to become a better person," commented Jeff Jorgensen.

Honor society recognizes 31

The National Honor Society is an organization made up of students who show leadership qualities and have superior grades. Thirty-one members were chosen this year on the basis of teacher recommendation, evidence of service to others, and maintenance of a grade point average of 3.6 for five consecutive semesters.

Members addressed the issue of recognition for grades and held a special event honoring grades in the winter.

The National Honor Society also sponsored the luau that was held in the spring.

Officers were Laura Kaine, president; Cheryl Cropp, vice-president; Cindy Gauldie, secretary; and Carrie Meline, treasurer/historian.

The softball team had another successful season with a 23-6 record. "It's an honor being ranked in the top 10 of the state for the third year. This was our fifth season having won 20 or more games," said Coach John Ligouri.

The Rails won tournament championships at the Jack North tourney, Indianola tourney, and the Norwalk Classic.

First team All-Metro honors went to Mary Sims(1st-base) and Deann Ibrahim(shortstop). Second team All-Metro were earned by Jenny Roe(3rd-base), Renee O'Conner(2nd-base), and Angie Tamasi(pitcher). Kelly Grimes, Melissa Daughenbaugh, and Teresa Lukehart received Honorable Mention.

Three players also made All-State recognition: Angie Tamasi-fifth team, Deann Ibrahim-fourth team, and Mary Sims-first team. This was the second year for Mary Sims to be chosen for first team All-State.

New coach leads Baggers

The baseball season ended with a 10-21 record, which placed the Baggers 7th in the Metro. Team leaders, all batting over .300, were Gary Gioffredi, Brad Dittmar, Jeff Graham, and Jason Marquardt. "Last year our team was the youngest of all the other teams. We had only three returning seniors. I think that we will have an excellent chance next year due to the number of returning starters. We also have some outstanding sophomores coming up to the varsity team," said catcher Gary Gioffredi.

Three players received recognition for their outstanding performances. Gary Gioffredi was named All-Academic, All-Conference. All Metro Honorable Mentions went to Brad Dittmar and Jason Marquardt. Marquardt said, "It was a great honor to be named to the Honorable Mention team, especially since it was only my junior year."

The Baggers were led by Coach Jerry Hall. "The highlight of this season was playing for the championship of the Urbandale-McDonald Tournament. We had a great start and a great finish, but during the middle we became more inconsistent by committing too many fielding errors and by not being aggressive enough. I'm sure that next season the Rails will definitely be the favored team," commented Coach Hall.

Harriers show improvement

The girls cross country team finished fifth in the Metro with Staci Cowan placing a respectable 20th out of 56 runners.

The team had an extremely good season, placing first in a triangular meet against S.E. Polk and Hoover, second in Kindy's Classic, and sixth at districts.

"For the first time since 1985, every member of the girls team lettered. We will have a good team next year. The girls' goal is to finish high in the Metro and be one of the top four in districts to qualify for state," commented Coach Phil Martin.

The boys cross country team finished seventh in the Metro, with Junior Larry Loffredo placing 15th. The team did especially well at both the Indianola and Augustine Invitationals and finished 13th at districts. Senior Sean Angus felt that although the team was young, they should be stronger next year with the high potential of the returning runners.

The Spikers got off to an exciting start winning their first two matches. The team placed first in the consolation bracket at the Gladbrook Tournament and second at the Indianola Invitational. In sectional play, the Spikers were defeated in a hard fought match by East to end the season, 19-17-11.

Captain Mary Wellinghoff, who led the team in ace spikes and serve reception, was chosen for the All-Metro team, while Michelle Berkland was named to the second team. Debbie Rivas, Shiloh Sorenson, and Jenny Beck earned honorable mention.

The Spikers took on the Gridders for a battle of the sexes in a volleyball match which proved the girls' enthusiam. In the first game the Spikers blew away the football players, 15-2. However, in the second game the boys were almost victorous; but again the girls stopped them, 15-10.

Michelle Berkland: Because of all the effort and enthusiasm shown by everyone on the team, we had a good season and a lot of fun.

Mary Wellinghoff: The season went well. We really came together as a team at the end and I learned a lot. Next year, I plan to play college ball and advance to an even higher level of play.

Rails survive tough season

The varsity football team, led for the second consecutive year by Head Coach Tim Miller, ended the season triumphantly with a 14-0 win over the East Scarlets at Williams Stadium. The game was scoreless until the second half when quarterback Jamey DeAngelo passed to Brad Dittmar, who ran 73-yards for a touchdown.

On East's next possession, Brad Dittmar intercepted a pass to set up Lincoln's second score. Brad Pippett was the next to receive for a 36-yard pass to the end zone for another touchdown to bring the Rails to a 12-0 advantage. The final 2-point conversion by Joel VanderWerff made it 14-0.

The Gridder's previous battles were not as successful. Opening the season, the Rails suffered a disappointing 26-6 loss to the Bobcats in Marshalltown. Starting quarterback Gary Gioffredi was tackled in the second half and sustained a broken leg that put him out for the rest of the season.

The Rails dominated the next match against the Valley Tigers, who were rated at the beginning of the season, resulting in a 20-14 victory. The Gridders didn't do as well against the Cyclones in Ames, losing 21-12.

Homecoming spirits were high as the Rails took on the Hoover Huskies, but the Huskies found their weaknesses and overcame the Rails, 15-13.

The Gridders didn't play up to potential against the Roosevelt Roughriders, failing 23-7. The Rails came back, however, to keep the North Polar Bears winless with a 26-12 victory. The Dowling Maroons proved tough and defeated the Gridders once again in a 35-22 battle.

Captain Ace Hendricks commented, "We had set high goals for the season, but injuries to our key players and lack of depth hampered our season."

The varsity Gridders completed the season with a record of 3-5.

Many of them received recognition for their abilities. Players of the Year included Eric Ingvall and Pete Pirillo, Most Improved; Brian Berry, Most Inspirational; and Brad Pippett, Most Valuable Player. Jason Marquardt earned the Coaches Appreciation Award for his valuable cooperation and contributions to the team.

Jason Marquardt said, "We played really well this season, although our record did not reflect all the progress we made. The whole team's contributions and spirit helped us in gaining respect from our opponents and we always stuck together even in the hardest of times."

All-Metro selections gave First Team recognition to Brad Pippett, receiver; Ted Bolten, offensive linemam; Jamey DeAngelo, quarterback; Pete Pirillo, defensive lineman; and Jason Marquardt, defensive linebacker.

Second team recognition went to Eric Ingvall, defensive lineman; John Kline, offensive lineman; and Brian Berry, defensive lineman.

All-Academic, All-Conference awards went to Ted Bolten, Mike Reid, and Jamey DeAngelo.

Coach Tim Miller commented, "I feel tremendous improvement was made in our program this fall. The players showed strong determination and never gave up even when the going was the toughest. The final win over East was an excellent way to end the season and gave us a big boost going into the 1988 season with Co-captians Jamey DeAngelo and John Kline leading the Gridders."

Freshmen, sophomore, and JV teams brimmed with talent.

At this stage, the players are gaining experience in learning the system. This can make moving up through the ranks much easier to do.

The potential looks strong for those young Gridders who acknowledge what they have learned and put it into use. Their talent and ability could be the mark of excellence for the years to come.

JV players gained useful experience that will prepare them for the varsity and lead them into a winning season. Some of the outstanding players for the JV team include running back Brian Aller, senior; offensive lineman Gene Parker, junior; and defensive linebacker Rob Blonigan, junior.

"We had a great season with a record of 4-4, which is the best sophomore record since 1976. Our team vastly improved and we played tough in the Metro," commented Coach Kyle Black.

Steve Tomlinson, quarterback; Joe Bianchi, linebacker; and Russ Hall, fullback and linebacker were some of the outstanding players for the sophomore team.

Sophomores Steve Tomlinson and Joe Bianchi agreed, "Our team has improved a lot this year, which will provide a big incentive for next season. We also believe that if we work hard enough for something, we can accomplish our goals."

The freshmen Gridders, led by new Head Coach Dave Bender, did well with a record of 3-5.

Tankers end season strong

The Tankers had an impressive season finishing with a 7-3 record. Among their victories were top ranked Ames and long time rival Dowling. With depth as one of their strong points the team pulled off a second place finish in the district competition. The Tankers qualified for state in six of eleven events. Foreign exchange students Akos Hegyi and Claus Dalum were two very strong assets to the team. Ethan Johnston broke his own school record in the 100 backstroke with a time of 58.13, finishing eighth in the state competition. Co-captain Lance Donaldson was seeded fifth in the 100 yard freestyle.

A young girls' swim team gained needed experience. With a disappointing season of 1-9 the girls never lacked hard work or dedication. They finished well by qualifying in three events for state. Amber Wegner broke two records in the 100 freestyle and the 50 freestyle. She qualified for state in the 50 freestyle and the 100 backstroke. Amber finished 12th in both events and Mindi Wood placing 23rd in the state competition.

"Mindi and Amber finished their outstanding season with good performances in the state meet. They were handicapped by inexperience at that level. Next year will be stronger," said Coach Tom Cady.

Gymnasts end last year strong

High insurance rates and low participation were given as reasons for discontinuing gymnastics in Iowa schools. Junior Christina Harless, co-captain of the East-Lincoln team, was the only Lincoln student to participate in this last year. East and Lincoln combined to form a team for the second time.

1. Christina Harless perches on the high beam, surrounded by her East teammates. 2. Christina shows good form during her floor routine. 3. Christina shows that dancing is an important part of gymnastics. 4. Christina prepares to do a difficult move on the uneven parallel bars.

Soccer

Coached by John Leo and Dan Paulson the soccer team finished third in the Metro with a record of 9-6-1.

Fredrick Danielson led the conference in scoring with 23 goals, despite playing only 9 of 14 scheduled games.

First team all Metro honors went to Fredrick Daneilson. Allen Hansen received second team all Metro honors and Bryan Searcy made honorable mention.

Tony Martindale said, "Next year's team should be even better with a lot of returning starters."

1. Allen Hansen protects the Lincoln goal by sending the ball up field. 2. The Railsplitter defense stops Roosevelt.

We will, we will rock you. The Grapplers accomplished just that after they paraded confidently around the Roundhouse to that song by Queen. The wrestlers, coached by Mike McGivern, proved their strength and potential with a 5-0 winning streak. They ran into a defeat when they faced the third national champion Dowling Maroons. Although they suffered a 50-6 loss, two Rails, Ken Ray and John Wilson, beat their opponents in the dual meets. Putting their loss behind them, the Grapplers got back on a winning streak with impressive victories over Valley, Hoover, East, Roosevelt, and S.E. Polk.

Turning fantasy into reality became the next moves when four wrestlers advanced to the State Tournament: Ken Ray at 98 lbs., Brian Callahan at 112 lbs., Jerry Dunham, last year's only State qualifier, at 145 lbs., and Brian Berry at 185 lbs.

With an improved dual meet record of 11-2-1, the Rails placed a high second place in the conference.

The Boy's State Tournament on February 24-27 proved to be a challenge as the four wrestlers did not fight up to the expectations and did not advance after the first round.

Coach Mike McGivern commented, "This has been, by far, the best and most exciting team I have ever coached. Their hard work, determination, and commitment over the past three years has really paid off. I only hope that the younger athletes are standing by and grasping the concept of hard work and intensity exhibited by the varsity squad so that in the future, they can step into the line-up and continue to produce winning teams." Rated second in the state, the Rails clinched the Metro Conference Championship with a record of 14-0 in the Metro and 23-2 overall. Four seniors, Missy Baker, Tracy Chapman, Melissa Daughenbaugh, and Dotty Henrichs, paced the Rails in their attacks against opposing teams.

The Rails, coached by Jerry Schartner, set a new school record for the most consecutive victories when they clinched their 18th victory. They also set a new record with the most points scored, 92, by a Metro team in the 5-player game.

Team members who made 1st team All-Metro were Missy Baker, Tracy Chapman, and Melissa Daughenbaugh. Dotty Henrichs made 2nd team All-Metro and Jenny Roe received Honorable Mention.

Dotty Henrichs commented, "This year we played more as a team. Scoring from the four seniors was mostly even and Jenny Roe helped a lot too. I think this was the best way to end our senior year."

Fighting their way through districts and regionals, the Rails remained undefeated and advanced to the State Tournament. In the semi-final game, the Rails fought a hard battle against the Bettendorf Bulldogs. With 18 seconds left to go in regulation time, the game was tied. Not being able to get a shot up in the final seconds, the girls sent the game whirling into overtime.

In the 3-minute overtime, the two teams battled and remained tied until the last 3 seconds when Bettendorf scored the extra point needed at the free-throw line. The Rails were unable to recover and lost 56-55.

In the consolation game, the Rails were unable to contend with the height of the Waterloo Columbus team and bowed to them 41-37 to claim 4th place at the tourney for the second year in a row.

Coach Jerry Schartner commented, "This team was second to none in the history of Lincoln girls basketball. They had the best offensive average and the best record that any girls team has ever had."

JV girls show promise

The JV girls, coached by Scott Harrison, showed promise for next year's varsity team with a record of 4-2.

Kim Clements played an important part in the team's over-all performance as the leading scorer with Dana McNally close behind. All the girls worked hard and gained valuable experience that will be applied to next year's varsity team.

Coach Harrison commented, "My girls worked hard and showed a lot of improvement as the season went on."

All of the JV players had a chance to gain valuable experience on the varsity level as reserves for the varsity team. Lisa Gordon said, "This year we played very few games but we learned what we had to work on individually and as a team for next year. Next year we'll have to work hard for every win, but I think we'll have a pretty good season."

1. Missy Baker shows a look of determination at a district game against Marshalltown. 2. Tracy Chapman shoots over a North defender on her way to another 2 points. 3. Varsity gains respect

Bringing back nine lettermen, the Cagers ended the season with a 10-8 record showing exceptional improvement. They started off the season slowly, but built their record up to 9-4 after Christmas.

Leading the Cagers were Senior Brad Pippett, with an average of 21 points, and Tyler Hankins, with an average of 11 points per game.

In districts, the Rails faced No. 2 rated Valley. With the loss of point-guard Tyler Hankins due to injury, the Rails were defeated after a hard fought battle.

Coach Tom Lee commented, " After Christmas the team played excellent basketball and their only defeats were teams rated in the top five. With the nucleus of underclass returning and a lot of hard work, next year should be an exceptional year for boys basketball."

Brad Pippett added, "It was unfortunate that we had some mistakes that cost us crucial games. I had fun playing these past two years and I wish Coach Lee and the juniors the best of luck!"

The mixture of experience and new talent promised great achievement and proved challenging for top spots on both tennis teams. The girls' team lost their top three players, two of whom were Son Chae and Alexandra Martin who finished fourth in the state tournament in doubles last year. The boys lost their first and third spots, once occupied by Fredrick Danielsen and Bill Spears.

Still, over half of the team members, most of whom were letter winners, returned for another season. "I just enjoy playing," commented Brooke Reichenbacker. Also a substantial number of new players made this a season of success.

Everyone was anxious and enthusiastic for things to get started. The first dual matches were in Newton, the girls April 7 and the boys April 11.

Boys, girls track start strong

Boys track coach Bob VanderLinden expected a successful season for this year's squad. Even though many state qualifiers were lost due to graduation, the team had an abundance of experience. With 25 returning letterwinners, the void was filled.

The boys indoor track season started March 19 at the Graceland Indoor Meet in Lamoni. April 5, the Cindermen's outdoor season started with an open meet at Lincoln.

The girl's track team, coached by Ed Pilkington, had high expectations going into the season. Striving to improve on their 6th place finish in the Metro last season, the Cinderwomen helped Coach Pilkington come through with a new and winning season. "'Coach Pilkington will made some strong and best-bet decisions for the inexperienced and youthful team," said Senior Dawn Rector.

The boys' fall golf squad, coached by Dave McGinnis and assistant Orville Siers, had high aspirations heading into the season with three returning varsity members: Senior Captain Doug Keller and Juniors Jeff Bianchi and Jeff Herzberg.

The season started with a Metro Invitational as Lincoln finished fourth out of eight teams. As the year went on the Linksmen kept improving. The team was paced by the returning varsity members and the consistent scores turned in by newcomer and Outstanding Golfer of the Year Senior Jeremy Kramer and Junior Tyler Hankins.

Before Districts at the Ames Invitational, All-Metro selection Bianchi won the tournament and hit an unexpected hole-in-one as the team defeated Dowling in the playoff. Lincoln finished an impressive third place at the close of the Metro season. Districts saw Hankins qualify for state with a perfect round of 72 and the team was nipped from the competition by one stroke.

Returning letterwinners for the girls fall golf team including Missy Baker, Liz Gilbert, Shelley Pittman, and Mary Wycoff, provided enough support and strength to take an edge in the Metro. With daily practices at Willow Creek Golf Course, the team strived for achievement, developing and perfecting their golf abilities. They competed in meets against Metro schools, as well as other high schools in the state.

In Memory of . . .

Peggy Louise Dierzen

Peggy Louise Dierzen was born in Chicago, Illinois, on November 25, 1943. She grew up in Newark, Illinois. Peggy graduated from Drake University in 1966 and taught English at Des Moines Technical High School for 18 years and at Lincoln High School for three years. Peggy received her Masters Degree in Counseling in 1986 and hoped to become a counselor in the Des Moines Public Schools.

Her courageous fight against cancer touched the hearts of everyone who knew her.

A memorial fund has been set up to honor her memory. A set of books about her favorite poet, Robert Frost, have been donated to the library. Each book contains a gold nameplate inside the front cover dedicated to her memory.

A Certain Kind Of Teacher

What does a teacher teach?
Whom does a teacher teach?
A certain kind of teacher touches us all.
Students learn about cancer and courage,
Faculties learn about love and caring,
Friends and family learn how to listen and to share.
This teacher models how to make the most of limited time and limited strength:

— how to conquer panic on a plane flight alone or when one suddenly cannot breathe when climbing stairs,
— how to appreciate the cooling breeze and a friendly shade tree when sitting on the porch on a warm day, — how to laugh as the little boy across the street plays with the water hose, and — how to treasure times with family and friends even when one's voice is scarcely a whisper.

This kind of teacher is one who maintains a sense of humor even as affairs are put in order — and who remains concerned about others.
Most of all, a certain kind of teacher chooses optimism as an ally for as long as possible —
and then goes on to teach strength in decision-making.
A certain kind of teacher believes in a Higher Being and a purpose in things.
and shows us we finally have to accept what we cannot change.
A certain kind of teacher's influence never stops —
This teacher will always be with us
And our love will always be with her.

— Bonnie McNurlen, Hospice Volunteer

And miles to go before I sleep . . .

Lincoln expands with Southside

When Lincoln High School was built in 1922 it contained only 55 rooms and was completed for the mere cost of $949,754.

Since then, Lincoln added the Roundhouse and cafeteria in 1966 and the new wing, containing 13 more classrooms, in 1972. Finally with the completion of the shops building and media center, another five classrooms were added.

Currently, Lincoln offers more than 180 courses and the faculty and staff numbers 152. Lincoln is the largest senior high school in Iowa and its large staff is guided by the philosophy: "Recognizing the wide spectrum of the southside community, Lincoln High School is dedicated to the acceptance of the individual and to the development of the individuals capacity for learning."

Physical Education

PE class is required of freshman through juniors. Students participated in many activities such as basketball, swimming, track, aerobics, volleyball, and softball.

Seniors are enrolled in contract PE, a program which allows the student to participate in sports outside of school and count it as gym credit.

PE provides physical education for students who have emotional, social, or physical problems.

Driver Education

Driver Education is offered first semester only. Over 300 students were enrolled this year and participated in all three aspects of the class: simulator, class, and car. The students who passed were able to get their licenses January 15.

NJROTC unit expands to 80

The Naval Junior Reserve Officers Training Corps (NJROTC) program is a 3-year curriculum designed to promote self-esteem, self-discipline, and self-control, for which students can receive high school credit.

After graduation, cadets who wish to enlist in any branch of the service may do so at an advanced pay grade. Other opportunities include ROTC college scholarships and nominations to military academies.

For a week of orientation in the fall, 24 cadets were able to go to Norfolk, Virginia. Honor Guard met and performed for the arrival of the Vice Commander of the American Legion at the Des Moines airport. Drill Team and Color Guard performed in the Veterans Day parade at the State Fair. Color Guard performed at all home football games and at the American Legion on three occasions, the Highlander's concert, and the Coast Guard Auxilary.

Bookends

Time it was, and what a time it was
It was a time of innocence,
A time of confidences.
Long ago it must be,
I have a photograph,
Preserve your memories,
They're all that's left you.

Officers organize memorable year

In December, officers were chosen by the senior class. The responsibilities of the officers were to plan and help organize various senior activities by working with homeroom representatives.

Andy Fisher was elected president of the senior class. His responsibilities included leading the senior class and working with all the various committees.

Sharon Little was elected vice-president. She handed out the senior officer plaques on Class Day, along with Sponsor Eugene Clark.

Gina Marcum, treasurer, handled all the financial details which included announcements, name card money, and senior dues.

Wendy Wilson, secretary, took notes and sent out invitations to guest speakers.

Senior Banquet was held April 28 at the Des Moines Marriott Hotel. Prime rib was selected as the entree.

Senior Prom was held April 23 at the Drake Olmsted Center. "Ballroom Blitz" was chosen as the theme with blue, black, and silver as the colors. Glasses, key chains, and picture frames were sold as souvenirs. The committee, with the help of Sponsor Gary Bagby, decorated the Olmsted Center for this memorable evening.

Scholarships and awards were given to outstanding seniors at Class Day, May 27. The Top 3% and Top 15% were also named at this assembly. Class Day prepared seniors for graduation.

Commencement took place at Veterans Memorial Auditorium on May 29, 1988 at 2 P.M. The guest speaker was Dr. Ray Pugh, Educational Professor of Drake university.

Our senior year has been a difficult puzzle, but finally all of the pieces are coming together. Through the good times and the bad, the laughs and the tears, we somehow made it, and we will remember these times for the rest of our lives. Now it's time to start a new and more difficult puzzle — the unknown/the future.

Pieces of Life

Putting the pieces together of a theme of life yet unknown,
Like a leaf in the wind blowing with a destiny still unknown.
To all our years of growing filled with pain, defeat, and sorrow,
This time in which we spent was to give us strength for our next tomorrow.
To the times that we shared of joy, love, and happiness
That will, in turn, make our good-byes filled with sadness.
We look forward to the future plans that are headed us abound,
And to the day to day life that makes the world go round.
All at once, life revolves fast,
Flashing the memories that will soon be in our past.
Hold onto your dreams, because only you can make them right.
Touch your star, and make it soar into flight,
We have thought our dreams over of how it was meant to be,
of growing up, meeting friends, and accepting responsibility.
As it comes closer to the end, we will be there with our hands and hearts out to lend.
We'll remember our moments, good or bad
And all the special times that we've had
Putting the pieces together of the memories we've shared
The ones that we'll cherish forever to show how much we've cared.
